"He bleeds film, his obsession with tapping the darkest recesses of his imagination and capturing living, breathing, blood dripping nightmare logic on film resulting in a body of work that defines the limitless parameters of what the horror film can be. Fluid, frightening, and outrageous, the dark dreams of Dario Argento now turn to Bram Stoker's oft filmed vampire novel Dracula in a deluxe 3D redux. Dracula 3D is oozing Argento's eccentricity...and of course, blood...rivers of blood" - Chris Alexander - Fangoria
