Noah Wyle Set to Play Lead in *SHOT

Noah Wyle will star as Mark Miller in Jeremy Kagan's feature motion picture SHOT, the story of what happens to an innocent bystander and his fiancé when a teenage kid unintentionally shoots him and all of their lives are turned upside down.

Wyle currently stars as Tom Mason in TNT's "Falling Skies" for Robert Rodat and Steven Spielberg and will reprise his role as Flynn Carsen in TNT's "The Librarians" upcoming series. Noah Wyle is represented by UTA and Brillstein Entertainment Partners

SHOT begins production in February, helmed by award winning director Jeremy Kagan (The Journey of Natty Gann, The Chosen, Roswell), scripted by William Lamborn, and Anneke Campbell, from a story by Kagan.

SHOT is repped at AFM by Omar Kaczmarczyk, Global IP Manager for the Global Genesis Group, and longstanding distribution guru. He may be contacted at AFM in Room 654, Loews Santa Monica Hotel, telephone (323) 733-1000.
